Maggie McClurg, MSN, APNP, FNP-BC, is a Nurse Practitioner with Ascension Medical Group. She provides management of acute and chronic conditions, along with care for mental health, women's health and performs minor procedures. She also provides weight management and exercise and nutrition expertise to patients of all ages.

Mrs. McClurg has a special interest in preventive care but also enjoys working with patients with weight management, mental health and dermatology concerns. She strives to build trusting and long lasting relationships with all her patients while providing compassionate care that is holistic, patient-centered and aligns with current evidence-based guidelines.

Outside of the office, Maggie enjoys spending time with family, friends and her dog, being outdoors and staying active and DIY projects.
